BOOZI teaming up with Indiegogo crowd funding, to release the new BOOZI STEALTH for Wine and Alcohol Purification.

BOOZI is an easy reusable device that removes impurities from your wine and spirits, made in the USA.*

Conway, S.C. August 29th, 2016 – BooZi LLC has created a device that when placed in your hard alcohol or wine, removes the negative congeners. Negative congeners are impurities left behind after the distillation or fermentation process which can be toxic including sulfites.

“These days people are concerned about the chemicals in the food they eat, but they never stop to question what is in their favorite cocktail.” – says Sheila Walberg-O’Neil, CEO, BooZi LLC. “When you use a BooZi, it removes the negative congeners from the alcohol, smooths out the taste, and reduces the hangover symptoms; which are a result of consuming those impurities.” -said Walberg-O’Neil. BooZi is easy to use and can treat up to 4 large bottles of hard alcohol or up to 12 bottles of wine. “Your BooZe has never tasted better and your hangover has never felt so good!”

BOOZI was submitted to Coastal Carolina University last summer to conduct third party testing to prove that the BooZi does remove these negative congeners (impurities) before submitting the patent. They are currently world-wide patent pending and trademarked. All materials used in the construction of a BooZi are FDA approved and made in the USA. Through field testing at their marketing headquarters, local festivals, and BooZi sponsored events consumer feedback was compiled to create the next generation of BooZi, called BooZi Stealth.

BooZi is teaming up with crowdfunding sight INDIEGOGO to spring board the new BooZi into production and bring this great new product to consumers. The crowd funding packages vary in price and all backers will have their products before Christmas. “I am excited to get this campaign underway so we can build this new American company and create local jobs.”-said Walberg-O’Neil.
