*“Lifting Up Patient Voice & Quality of Life:
A Scientific Symposium Highlighting 25 Years of Gateway’s Achievements in Driving Transformational Cancer Treatment”*

Hosted on the campus of Columbia University

By:

Dr. Siddhartha Mukherjee, MD, PhD

Author of The Emperor of All Maladies: A Biography of Cancer and The Gene: An Intimate History

2016 is a momentous year for Gateway, as the organization celebrates its 25th anniversary. Given Gateway’s mission to fund meaningful and breakthrough clinical trials worldwide, please join us for a commemorative scientific symposium recognizing Gateway’s investment in driving transformational advances in cancer research. In the spirit of Gateway’s new impact framework, the symposium is designed to present, reflect on, and look ahead to Gateway’s role in patient-centric cancer research.

When: Friday, September 9, 2016

Time: 8:30 AM – 4:00 PM

Where: Columbia University Medical Center
Bard Hall
50 Haven Ave.
New York, NY 10032

Cost: There is no fee for this educational activity. (Including breakfast, lunch, and refreshments)

Details:

The presentations will showcase clinical trials of a subset of past and presently funded Gateway researchers, illustrating the three key strategies that drive Gateway’s impact framework: (1) Patients Have a Voice; (2) Cancer Patients Feel Better and Live Longer; and (3) Patients Contribute to Overcoming Cancer in the Future.

The symposium will also feature insights on advancing development and use of patient-reported outcomes, the promise of collaboration at the intersection of systems biology and the “Big Data” space, and the value of a forward-thinking philanthropy like Gateway.
