

November 3rd, 2016

For Immediate Release:

Zoo Labs is extremely proud to announce that acclaimed producer, entrepreneur and technologist Bosco Kante has joined our team as Music Developer & Partner.

Bosco brings his Talkbox wizardry to Zoo Labs and our expanding community. His musical career has included collaborations on records from Big Boi to J. Cole, Grammy nods with Janelle Monae & Drake, and writing credits that include the legendary television show, In Living Color. Bosco brings a rich history and passion for the craft of music to Zoo Labs. Bosco has also participated in our residency program in 2014. He joins the Zoo Labs team and brings decades of tangible industry experience to the table, from navigating the business of music to steering creativity to the top of the charts..

Bosco is currently developing Electrospit, a mobile/wearable version of his Talkbox, We are grateful to have his cutting edge mentality, infectious personality and desire to bend the future to his will on our team. You can reach Bosco directly at Bosco@ZooLabs.org.

About Zoo Labs:

Zoo Labs is a (non profit) music accelerator that is focused on encouraging artists to apply their creative power to growing their business and deepening their creative practice. Today, artists face many of the same challenges as innovators in the startup world so our job is to be a place of mutual transformation and bridge the world of art, tech, and business to push towards thriving livelihoods for artists. Zoo Labs Music Residency, an immersive two-week residency program designed to support entrepreneurial music-making teams.

Contact:

Brandt Williams

Zoo Labs

brandt@zoolabs.org

www.zoolabs.org