Amanda Howard Real Estate Announces New Office Expansion to Jupiter, Florida

(Huntsville AL, January 4, 2017) Amanda Howard Real Estate, based in Huntsville, Alabama, recently opened their newest expansion office located in Jupiter, FL. Amanda Howard Real Estate of Jupiter is the fourth office location for the company, and is the first one outside of their home state of Alabama. This office will service the areas of Jupiter, Palm Beach and Martin County. In addition to the corporate headquarters in Huntsville, their service footprint includes offices in Madison and Guntersville, AL.

“I knew it would be vital that we find the right leader to set a positive trajectory for our Jupiter office. I knew we needed someone who would stay on top of strategic marketing, innovative technology, and who would empower our agents to serve the needs of our clients in a manner that reflects what we’ve already established in several cities in North Alabama. It is paramount that our team’s culture and core values be at the forefront as we establish ourselves in such a dynamic area as Jupiter. With all of this in mind, we are proud to announce that we have selected David Bates as the Broker of Amanda Howard Real Estate of Jupiter.” commented Amanda Howard, Founder & CEO of Amanda Howard Real Estate.

“David honorably served six years in the US Air Force, and since then has created and developed his own property management and maintenance service company,

'At Your Service', which he has nurtured and grown into a thriving business. He has displayed the discipline and drive necessary to move a company forward while focusing on customer loyalty by exceeding expectations. We are honored to have David on board to take the reins with our team in Jupiter, and we look forward to celebrating their achievements in the community." continues Howard.

"The growth of Amanda Howard Real Estate has been phenomenal. Their mission statement and core values along with the best training in the industry, has catapulted them to be one of the fastest growing real estate teams in the nation! I am honored to represent this group of professionals and look forward to much success here in Amanda's home town of Jupiter", says David.
