Intellecty to launch Smart Water Meter with Leak Protect February 7, 2017 on Kickstarter

San Diego, CA - Jan 10, 2016 Intellecty today announced the upcoming launch of the Intellecty Smart Water Meter with Leak Protect, a smart home product that will help homeowners monitor for leaks, track their water use, and help manage water conservation goals. The Smart Water Meter with Leak Protect will debut on Kickstarter on February 7, 2017.

How it helps save water and save money

The Smart Water Meter with Leak Protect monitors for water leaks and alerts the homeowner when a leak is detected whether as small as a pinhole or an all out pipe burst. It will help homeowners track their water use in real-time as the water is being used and notify the homeowner of high water use and water waste, such as long showers or a stuck toilet flapper. Installation is simple and easy as you only have to mount the sensor on the main water pipe; making it a DIY install with no pipe cutting or plumber needed.

Water leak damages and dangers

“Small leaks can go undetected for days, weeks and even months, before you notice the wet wall or ceiling.”, said Emilio Vargas, Intellecty CEO. “Some pinhole leaks will actually repair themselves as the minerals in the water will seal the hole. Because the leak is hidden, the trapped water and moisture inside the wall or ceiling can turn to mold in as little as 24 to 48 hours. This mold poses a serious health risk in the home and everyone living there. The equally damaging pipe burst is more visible and easier to realize unless you are not at home. Our system will notify the homeowner anywhere 24/7 via smartphone, email or the system's panel as soon as the leak happens.”

Back us on Kickstarter

We are looking to fund the production run and will be turning to Kickstarter on February 7, 2017. For additional information visit <http://intellecy.com> to learn more and receive updates on our Kickstarter launch.
