The Real Tip Press release

Fredericksburg, Virginia, 12/09/2016 — Central Virginia Public Broadcasting (CVPB) has announced a new program with D&R Talent Management. D&R Talent Management work with models, actor/actress, singers and dancers and have cast young adults in several mini series VEEP on HBO, Nightmare next door, Who the Bleep Did I Marry, Evil Twin, Deadly Affairs, House of Horror, Empire on Fox and Gotham just to name a few. D&R Talent Management has done commercials for Education First, Doritos, Bridal layouts and Resorts. Their singers have auditioned at America's Got Talent, Voice, American Idol and the Apollo. Their models have worked in several Fashion weeks, Bridal shows and promotional modeling for companies like GEICO.

The program called “The Real Tip” will feature area events, new artist, models, designers, entertainment businesses and great restaurants. Follow us and see where the happens are in the DMV. The behind the scenes of what it takes to put on some of the great events you see. A closer look at the entertainment business and what it takes to make it. Behind the scenes of auditions and interviews with some of the great artist in our area.

CVTV/CVPB operates cable, OTT/iPTV channels as well as Internet radio. In late 2016 CVTV/CVPB announce a White Label Channel Service for Content Providers that want their own OTT/iPTV channel without the hassle of operating the channel themselves. Namy of the new artist will be featured on the Peace Global Music and Entertainment Channel a division of CVTV/CVPB headed up by Vanderbilt “Angelic” Evans and Elwood Legette of Angelicvoices Music. “We are very excited to partner with D&R Talent Management, I look forward to seeing and hearing all the talent they manage.” says Vanderbilt, who goes by the moniker of Angelic. “I’ve been in the business for many, many years and I always enjoy the discovery of new talent and seeing that talent grow” says Elwood Legette.
