DuPont™ Corian® design surface shapes up for the workplace at the Surface Design Show 2017, with new solutions and trends

A series of installations from reception desks to wall features and washrooms will demonstrate the sophisticated performance and the versatility of Corian® design surface

February 2017 – DuPont™ Corian® returns to the popular Surface Design Show in London with a stylish display of its renowned ingenuity, versatility and reliability. This year at stand 210 at the Business Design Centre, the theme is the workplace and how Corian® design material can solve every challenge, from beautifully functional desks to decorative backlit cladding to high-traffic washrooms.

“2017 also sees a change in operations for Corian® in the UK, with CD (UK) Ltd - exclusive distributor of Corian® in the UK for 37 years - now taking over responsibility for all local sales and marketing programmes. Representatives and experts from the Corian® team will be on hand to reveal their latest trend research, offer advice, give demonstrations, arrange trainings and discuss all current and future project needs.

Alongside ideas for high-impact receptions areas, hot drink stations and striking visual identities, the stand also hosts the latest hi-tech solution for washrooms. This forward-thinking innovation is a collaboration between Dyson and CD (UK) Ltd, created to offer a smart, sleek, easy-care option for hand washing and drying, made with Corian® and featuring the Dyson Airblade Tap & Dryer.

Gary Baker, Managing Director of CD (UK) Ltd, the UK distributor of Corian® says: “At CD (UK) Ltd, we’re really proud that we have played such a large part in the growth of this incredible product since we introduced Corian® to the United Kingdom 37 years ago. It’s very exciting to be expanding our role in the continuing success of the brand, especially with many more innovations in the pipeline. We are delighted to be displaying the multiple possibilities of Corian® at the Surface Design Show.”
