Disabled Veterans: What We Can Do for You

Whether you were in the Army, Air Force, Marines, Navy, Coast Guard or the Reserves, as a Disabled Veteran who has fought for our country, you could be eligible for a job through the National Telecommunications Institute (NTI). NTI is the leader in placing Americans with Disabilities nationwide in work-at-home, call center, customer service and IT positions. Founded in 1995 as a 501 (c)(3) non-profit, NTI delivers consulting, outsourcing, and staffing services for companies interested in deploying or extending their virtual contact centers. Our services can help you if you were injured after your time in service. If you are on SSI, SSDI or have a Vocational or VA Counselor, we can help! NTI strongly supports those who have the desire to come back to work. Positions range from telecommuting Call Center and Help Desk positions to brick-and-mortar jobs that are the right fit for you.

2 Solutions, 1 Organization

For those on SSI, SSDI, or have a Vocational Rehabilitation or VA Counselor, our @Home program is the right fit for you so you can telecommute from your home. Most positions are IT Help Desk or Customer Service roles for major companies including Amazon, IBM, Meijer and John Hancock.

Our other division, LandAjob, has two main focuses. The first focus is our job database. If you are looking for a position, LandAjob has the resources you need to connect with companies that are looking specifically to hire Americans with Disabilities. The second focus pertains to workplace reimbursements. If you already have a job you can receive reimbursements for work related expenses up to $10,000 upon eligibility. To be eligible for the program, you must be on either SSI or SSDI.

Continue Your Education

NTI combines online courses with virtual classroom training in a blended learning approach. By doing so, the candidate is equipped to meet the technical and professional needs of our clients. NTI provides a 3-Day Remote Call Center Agent (RCCA) training class where candidates learn skills that will help them meet the expectations for working as a remote call center and customer care agent. To complement the instructor-led class, NTI's Online University provides candidates with self-paced courses focused on career-based and computer skills.
