FieldConnect Earns Coveted Microsoft Gold Competency in Application Development

FieldConnect demonstrates its technological expertise meeting Microsoft's highest partner standards

IRVINE, CA – March 30, 2017, – FieldConnect Inc., an award-winning mobile workforce management software company, today announced it achieved a Gold Competency in Application Development, demonstrating its ability to develop state-of-the-art applications for the Microsoft platform. This coveted competency also positions the company in the elite 1 percent of Microsoft's partner ecosystem.

"Our development team did a fantastic job in meeting Microsoft's rigorous application development standards to elevate our competency from Silver to Gold in the Microsoft Partner Network. This proficiency strengthens FieldConnect's capability to deliver best-in-class software solutions and better value to our customers, Microsoft and its resellers," said Robert Hughes, Founder and CEO of FieldConnect.

The Microsoft Gold Application Development Competency signifies that a company has established the highest level of expertise and achievement within a given technology focus. Each competency has a distinctive set of requirements and benefits, framed to precisely represent the exact skills and services that partners bring to the industry. This achievement demonstrates FieldConnect's best-in-class ability and commitment to meet Microsoft customers' evolving needs in today's business environment.
