The Law Firm of Tony S. Kalogerakos & Associates

Opens a New York Office

Injury Lawyers of Illinois, the firm of Tony S. Kalogerakos & Associates, has opened a new location at 275 Madison Avenue in the heart of midtown Manhattan. The new location represents a redistribution of the firm's case load to serve its growing roster of clients from the greater Manhattan area.

"Our newest location is a personal milestone for me," said Kalogerakos, who had set as a goal developing a New York practice when he launched his firm in 2007. "New York State has always been considered the mecca of trial lawyers," he said. "In essence it represents a challenge, and is based on the response we've received and the results we've achieved there."

The New York office will focus exclusively on serious and catastrophic matters; the cases they handle are larger, both in injury scope and value.

Obtaining positive client outcomes in these types of cases demands a combination of skill, attentiveness and relationships with some of the best experts in a wide range of fields. The firm's latest record of results and outcomes attests to Kalogerakos' skilled identification and utilization of some of the world's best experts, assuring clients that their matters will be handled with the highest level of integrity and professionalism.
