The IronFX Racing Yacht is representing Cyprus for the first time at the 2017 ORC World Sailing Championship in Trieste, Italy

IronFX is proud to announce that the IronFX Racing Yacht, part of the Company's long-established Corporate & Social Responsibility program, has qualified for the Offshore Racing Congress (ORC) Worlds 2017, which will take place in Trieste, Italy between July 2nd and 8th, 2017. In this capacity the yacht will be the official Cyprus entry, the first time ever that Cyprus has qualified and is participating at the ORC World Championship. The participation at the World Championship is part of a series of charitable initiatives that IronFX performed since its inception, encompassing education, sports and general social welfare. IronFX will continue to support a wide range of charitable causes in the future.

IronFX is the main promoter and sponsor of this effort. The Company is also a proud sponsor of the World Championship itself, giving additional exposure to both Cyprus and the sport of Sailing in Cyprus. The IronFX Racing Yacht will also be representing the Famagusta Nautical Club in the Championship, as well as promoting the #visitCyprus campaign of the Cyprus Tourism Organisation. The Cyprus Tourism Organisation and the Limassol Marina have kindly contributed in the team effort and have ensured a successful participation in the Championship.

The IronFX Racing Yacht will participate in Class A of the World Championship with a Corinthian designation. The yacht is a Farr 45 Class yacht designed by Bruce Farr and has a crew of 14. The team is captained by Nikolas Epiphaniou and crewed by Markos Kashiouris, Loukia Kanarini, Daphne Frangoudis, Charalambos Aravatzis, Stelios Mabrouk, Andreas Milidonis, Andriana Matsis, Giorgos Savvides, Sakis Dionysiou, Adam Vlachos, Alexandros Adamides, Michel Fialas and Andreas Liasides.
