Southern California Native Founders' Thoughtfully Curated Bohemian-Inspired Textiles; Highlighting Beauty and Diversity

MIDWAY, UT, Nov. 8, 2017 — Moon Water Co.™, a global purveyor of quality handmade Bohemian-inspired goods, textiles and personal accessories, which inspires to bring the world's beauty and wonder home is now open for business.

"Studying in the UK and volunteering at a children's orphanage in India, fed my genuine love and passion for the arts and the many beautiful people and cultures from around the world," said Amanda Bingham, Moon Water co-founder. "For Hailey and I, discovering the world's best textiles and goods is a passion that we want to share with everyone."

Setting itself apart, each of Moon Water's handmade goods includes a curated variety of original hand-stitched Indian kanthas, African mud cloth pillows, fall-inspired headbands, custom-designed jewelry, belly baskets and other precious gift accessories.

Moon Water's goal is to connect people with artisans from small and distant villages, in order to honor and support their talents, culture & families.

"For us, Moon Water has been a labor of love several years in the making," said Hailey Buchanan, Moon Water co-founder. "Every product we create was thoughtfully considered and designed to be an heirloom piece in your home"
