Phantom Screens Releases Latest Innovation in Retractable Screens for Multi-Panel, Sliding & Folding Glass Wall Systems

Abbotsford, B.C. - Phantom Screens, the leading manufacturer of retractable screens in North America, releases a new retractable wall screen for oversized door systems and large openings – now available to order across North America.

Phantom's retractable wall screens covers doorways and openings up to 24 feet wide and 10 feet high, and disappear out of sight when not in use. They feature a thumb latch integrated into the handle for controlled openings and mesh that is completely secured into track to prevent unwanted pests. The highlight of this retractable screen is its customizable stopping points for easy in and out access, allowing home owners to personalize where they would like the screen to open and close.

“There is nothing like being able to leave your large doors wide open to enjoy the breeze without letting in the bugs.” says C. Esther De Wolde. “The functionality of easy in and out access without compromising design of your multi-panel door system is remarkable.”

This new retractable wall screen was revealed to the public at The New American Home 2017 on January 10th in Orlando Florida. This year, The New American Remodel 2018 will also feature the manual retractable wall screen, and will be open to the public January 9th. The New American Home and The New American Remodel are two of NAHB's most successful and visible programs showcasing the latest in innovative products for the future of home building.
