Energy On-Ramp Joins WolfePak Software as a Value Added Reseller

ABILENE, Texas, March 13, 2018 – WolfePak Software LLC (WolfePak), a leading provider of financial, accounting and regulatory compliance software to the oil and gas industry, announced Energy OnRamp as the inaugural partner in the launch of the WolfePak Channel Partner Program. Energy OnRamp is a Midland based technology group that advises and assists clients with the efficient utilization of existing and new technology.

“Combining the extensive oil & gas expertise of Energy OnRamp with WolfePak Software delivers a powerful accounting and automation solution for operators, first purchasers, investors and service companies,” said Brent J. Rhymes, CEO, WolfePak. “We are pleased to have Roy Jackson and his Energy OnRamp team join the WolfePak Channel Partner Program.”

Energy OnRamp, LLC works on the principal that information fuels opportunity. Leveraging its technology, mineral and strategic consulting groups, Energy OnRamp enables the efficient delivery of data critical to the decision-making process for oil & gas upstream, midstream and service companies. Its services include technology and process assessments, recommendations for utilizing existing assets, sourcing new technologies and strategic consulting on acquisitions and divestments.

“Energy OnRamp prides itself on partnering with only the best providers and WolfePak Software is the most comprehensive accounting and automation software on the market,” said Roy Jackson, President, Energy OnRamp. “With our consulting resources and WolfePak Software, we have a great opportunity to provide a total solution for back-office operations to the energy industry.”

About Energy OnRamp

Energy OnRamp uses its three consulting groups, the Technology Group, Mineral Group and Strategic Consulting Group, to analyze and pinpoint areas where increased efficiency can solve existing problems and help oil and gas companies meet their strategic goals. Staff expertise includes mergers and acquisitions, revenue accounting, financial operations, mineral titles and land management. Energy OnRamp is based in Midland, Texas and serves clients throughout North America.
