Screencast-O-Matic Selected As Google for Education Premier Partner

The leading video creation platform partners with Google to enable video learning for everyone in the classroom.

SEATTLE, June 24, 2019 — Screencast-O-Matic announced today that it was selected as a Google for Education Premier Partner. Google selected the video platform for its intuitive video creation and sharing tools, making it easy for educators to enhance learning in the classroom.

Screencast-O-Matic is a trusted leader in video creation tools and serves millions of people around the world. With its leading screen recorder, video editor and video sharing services for education, Screencast-O-Matic is used in scenarios such as flipped learning. With the partnership, Screencast-O-Matic offers educators and students video solutions with easy integration to Google for Education products. Screencast-O-Matic integrations with Google for Education include:

- Quick Share to Google Classroom - The learning environment is perfect for sharing video created with Screencast-O-Matic's intuitive screen recorder and video editor. Educators and students can directly share videos with a simple click of the "Google Classroom Share Button."
- Video Sharing in Google Apps - Screencast-O-Matic's integration within Google Apps allows educators to easily embed their videos in Google Docs, Google Sheets, and Google Slides. These creative options can meet the needs of virtually any classroom.
- Google Drive for Easy Access and Management - With a click of a button, educators and students can easily upload their screen recordings and videos directly to Google Drive, including saving media in Google Classroom folders.
- Gmail To Enhance Video Communication - Screencast-O-Matic's integration into Gmail is a powerful time-saving feature that enables quick video communication and collaboration. Videos can easily be added directly while composing in Gmail.
- Use a single Google Account - Use Google Account in Screencast-O-Matic, adding the convenience of single-sign-on across services.

Screencast-O-Matic provides multi-device video creation tools, including a dedicated Chromebook app, which can be conveniently launched across devices from a Google Chrome Browser extension. Google for Education expands learning by supporting teachers, researchers and organizations with robust, flexible technology. Screencast-O-Matic is proud to be a part of this collaborative partnership.
