

IndieFest International moves to ilCaffé in Downtown Los Angeles

Bringing the film festival experience to unique community and outdoor venues

For Immediate Release:

July 9, 2019

Film Festival Flix and ilCaffé have joined forces to launch IndieFest International in Downtown Los Angeles. IndieFest International is a multi-day, celebration of American Independent and International films taking place in Los Angeles California. Started in 2012, IndieFest International has showcased films from around the world introducing first time and established filmmakers to US audiences.

"As exhibition technology has made it possible to screen movies beyond theaters, we love the intimacy created by bringing these film gems and the festival experience to local audiences in unique and exciting community and outdoor venues. The internationally known, ilCaffé located in the heart of Downtown Los Angeles could not be a more perfect partner and location for our Festival!" shares Film Festival Flix CEO, Benjamin Oberman.

Festival attendees will have the opportunity to discover quality films, to mix and mingle with fellow cinephiles and filmmakers, to have their photo on the red carpet, to expand their horizons at engaging industry panel discussions, and to relax while listening to the unique sounds of local musical artists.
