

PharmaVentures and Growthink Research Join Forces to Deliver Bioscience Industry Information Solutions

Oxford Science Park, Oxford, UK, 21 May 2008

PharmaVentures announced today an agreement with Growthink Research, the U.S.-based market research firm, to distribute its Venture Capital database to customers in industry and academic institutions worldwide. Fintan Walton, PhD, PharmaVentures' Chief Executive Officer, says, "As experts in deals and alliances in the pharmaceutical and biotechnology sector, we have in-depth knowledge of the workflows and information needs of business development and licensing executives. Access to comprehensive and reliable financial data is vital, and we are delighted to have forged this partnership to complement our own proprietary PharmaDeals® v2 database".

Corey Lavinsky, CEO for Growthink Research, adds, "In our work analyzing venture capital activity, we have carefully tracked over 8,800 U.S.-based, venture-funded companies, many within the bioscience industry. Our data is an invaluable resource for companies looking to raise capital or to identify new clients. Working with PharmaVentures will help us target new markets internationally that have a strong and persistent demand for this high quality financial information".

The new agreement with Growthink Research, and PharmaVentures' rapid development of its PharmaDeals database, analytical services and customer services, underpins PharmaVentures' drive to provide information solutions to its customers in top pharmaceutical and biotechnology companies. Anne Vindenes Allen, PharmaDeals' Chief Operating Officer, says, "Unlike many generic database providers, we have the expertise in-house to work with our customers to solve their specific business issues. Growthink Research's Venture Capital database, along with our own new services, is another milestone along this track that will help our customers in their decision-making and effectiveness".
