

pcRUSH.com / Atman, Inc. is Awarded General Services Administration (GSA) Schedule (GS-35F-0099W)

El Segundo, CA.--(BUSINESS WIRE)—December 3rd, 2009—pcRUSH.com / Atman, Inc. was recently awarded a General Services Administration (GSA) Schedule to provide technology hardware to the various Branches of the United States Federal, State/Local Governments and other entities that are eligible or required to purchase off a GSA Schedule.

pcRUSH.com / Atman, Inc carries over 100,000 technology products from manufacturers including HP, Cisco, Microsoft, Axis, Panasonic and hundreds more. Examples of products offered include: printers, computers, scanners, routers and switches, ruggedized and business electronics from over 200 categories. pcRUSH / Atman, Inc. and sister company, technology integrator, Nextierra hold many advanced certifications for Unified Communications, Network and Data Security, Print and Document Management and well as holding HP's coveted Public Sector Elite Partner status.

"Over the past 12 years, pcRUSH / Atman, Inc. has primarily focused on selling and servicing Business to Business across a variety of verticals including, financial, medical, manufacturing industries, education and all segments of the Public Sector," states Frank Khalili, Chief Operating Officer. Over a year ago pcRUSH.com / Atman Inc. created a Government Sales Division staffed by very experienced government specialists to better service the Public Sector. "We are an HP and Cisco supplier to the Federal Government due to our exceptional pricing and large inventory of even hard to find HP products, but without holding a GSA Schedule, we were limited to Open-Market purchases. Now that pcRUSH holds a GSA Schedule we are able to offer pre-negotiated pricing and gives those agencies that must purchase off a GSA Schedule the ability to take advantage of our knowledge base and large inventory to help meet their mission critical requirements." states Frank Khalili pcRUSH / Atman, Inc. is based on the traditional sales model and relies heavily on integrity, pricing and the highest quality of customer service. This is evidenced by our 5 star service ratings from all ratings services being named as one of the internet's top retailers.
