FSSC 22000 – FOOD SAFETY SYSTEM CERTIFICATION

FSSC 22000 is the latest certification scheme for food manufacturers. It incorporates HACCP (Hazard Analysis of Critical Control Points) principles and implementation plans, and creates an effective framework for food safety management, communication along the food supply chain, and control of food safety hazards. The scheme is based on the integration of ISO 22000:2005 Food Safety Management Systems standard and Publicly Available Specification (PAS) 220. Supported by the Confederation of the Food and Drink Industries of the European Union (CIAA), FSSC 22000 has been fully approved by the Global Food Safety Initiative (GFSI).

✔ WHAT ORGANIZATIONS FALL UNDER THE FSSC 22000 UMBRELLA?

The FSSC 22000 standard was drafted to serve the needs of not just food producers and manufacturers, but virtually every other organization that participates within the food supply chain. The result is a set of standards that work consistently – worldwide – to assure the safety of the food supply. Operations covered by FSSC 22000 include:

PRIMARY FOOD PRODUCTION

- Crop production
- Feed production
- Primary food processing
- Secondary food processing
- Wholesaling and distribution
- Food retailing

RELATED OPERATIONS

- Pesticide, fertilizer, and veterinary pharmaceutical production
- Ingredients and additives production
- Transportation and storage
- Equipment production
- Cleaner/sanitizer production
- Packaging materials production
- Service providers

✔ Why Choose FSSC 22000?

Adopting the FSSC 22000 standard can provide your operations with competitive efficiencies on a worldwide basis. With registration to FSSC 22000, you get:

- A single, globally-accepted standard that is recognized in many countries,
- Uniform food safety procedures that are applicable worldwide,
- Improved communication with your trading partners by means of using one auditing platform,
- Better understanding and implementation of HACCP principles, helping identify, evaluate, and control hazards related to food safety throughout the food production or supply chain,
- A driver for continuous improvement, due to ISO's known management system approach,
- Improved food safety hazard control, and
- A uniformly auditable standard.
