

Maryland Home Alarm Customers Start Enjoying Benefits of Pet Immune Motion Detection Device, Thanks to Elite Security Services.

Elite Security Services is again making news in the Maryland home alarm industry with the introduction of their latest motion detection system. This advanced device is capable of eliminating false alarms caused by pet animals. This device is now being offered by the company with all their service plans in Maryland for no additional expense.

The home protection systems offered by Elite Security Services in the Maryland home alarm market would now be equipped with the latest motion detector that can reduce the chances of false alarms significantly. The customers of the company throughout the state can now enjoy the benefits of this device with all their service plans without paying anything extra. Home protection enthusiasts may recall that the company started offering their service in the state almost a year ago, and is presently considered to be one of the most trusted names in the industry. This new motion detection equipment has been designed specifically for families that love pets, according to company sources.

Maryland home alarm users using traditional security systems would love the features of this new device because many of them are presently using motion detectors that can not differentiate between human and non human sources of movement. This is critical because these systems trigger alarms even when the pets move around these sensors. This has always been a concern for families with pet animals. The device introduced by Elite Security Services is equipped with an advanced sensor that efficiently distinguishes between the sources of movement and restricts the system from sounding alarms for objects weighing less than 80 pounds.

This new device has already made life easier for the pet lovers in Maryland. Talking about the amazing features of this device, one of the Maryland home alarm customers of the company stated, "We had a tough time managing our three pet dogs when we were using our previous security system. With the new device from Elite Security Services, the problem of false alarms has vanished from our life". The company sources have informed that their business figure in Maryland has already increased after the launch of this device.

About the Company: Elite Security Services is a rapidly growing company in the home security industry. They offer highly efficient and economical home security solutions in America and Canada.
