Here is a testimonial from a recent attendee:

"I recently attended a Paul Hill Boot Camp.

My stance towards these events is sometimes a mixed bag of genuine hope that a new insight or spark will act as a catalyst to my taking required action, and skepticism over whether the organizer of the event has the content and energy to make things happen from their end – so that I can make things happen from my end. ... and what exactly are the things, formats, and mental attitudes I can most profit from – on my end?

Paul Hill delivers.

With a combination of energy, content, life stories, and "hands-on do it right now on the spot" actions I feel I got more than my money's worth.

One quick example: one single phone call made on the spot from the Boot Camp room to a key player in an industry I was interested in exploring, was followed up by my sending that target contact a Networking Letter following Paul's format.

That letter got me a face to face meeting which led to important information regarding key contacts – and the game was on !!

I thank Paul and Navgeet for the energy, caring, and insights obtained from real life ups and downs, real life struggles. They have Big Energy and Big Heart. It shows.”
