HOTEL MURANO WOOS ART-LOVERS WITH A GETAWAY TO SEE
ANDY WARHOL'S FLOWERS FOR TACOMA AT TACOMA ART MUSEUM

November 1, 2012–TACOMA, Wash. – In 1982, Andy Warhol proposed an audacious, larger-than-life work of art for the roof of the Tacoma Dome featuring his signature flowers. The installation was never realized but, in celebration of its 30th anniversary, the artist's iconic Flowers and his vision for the Dome are coming to Tacoma Art Museum in an original exhibition, Andy Warhol's Flowers for Tacoma, on display November 3, 2012-February 10, 2013.

In conjunction with the exhibition, Hotel Murano, downtown Tacoma's destination for art and indulgence, is offering the exclusive Flowers for Tacoma hotel package so Warhol fans can make a trip to see this exhibition into an inspirational, art-filled getaway.

Featuring a museum-quality art collection that includes one of Warhol's signature Campbell's Soup Cans, Hotel Murano is the perfect home away from home for art-lovers making a pilgrimage to see Tacoma Art Museum's Andy Warhol's Flowers for Tacoma. Covering his career from the early 1950s through 1986, the exhibition reveals a softer, more intimate side of the artist and traces Warhol's fascination with flowers' beauty and fragility through more than 100 of the icon's lithographs, screen prints, sketches, and paintings, including his original submission for the Tacoma Dome.

Those who book the Flowers for Tacoma package at Hotel Murano will check into a luxurious room ideally situated just three blocks from the Tacoma Art Museum. In addition to two tickets to Andy Warhol's Flowers for Tacoma, package guests will also enjoy free wifi, complimentary self-parking and a $20 food and beverage voucher for use during their stay at Hotel Murano's lobby lounge, BITE restaurant or room service.

Rates for Hotel Murano's Flowers for Tacoma package start at $149, per night, plus tax, and it can be booked at www.murano.com/warhol.
