

Get it Working for You!

Automated appointment reminder phone calls will not only help to increase the amount of time dental practices can spend with their patients; they will also help practices reach even more patients to schedule and confirm appointments and generate referrals. In addition, automated phone calls help to reduce no-shows and increase dental practice production.

PracticeMojo is now proud to offer automated appointment reminder calls to save your office even more of your valuable time, improve customer & staff satisfaction and increase profitability! We know how critical reminder notifications are to reducing no-shows and keeping your practice full. Now compliment your existing dental marketing strategy to reach patients with appointment reminder phone calls.

PracticeMojo automated phone reminders use a natural voice that creates the warmth of a personal phone call. We include patient names and appointment-specific details to deliver a professional and personalized message. Plus, caller id match ensures your office phone number and location are displayed to improve response rate
