

Work From No Home: Review Exploring Peng Joon's Internet Marketing Course Released By HonestyFirstReviews.com

Summary: HonestyFirstReviews.com releases a review of Work From No Home the best-selling marketing course from IM whiz kid Peng Joon that intends to teach aspiring internet marketers how to achieve the "dot com" lifestyle.

Work From No Home has become a best selling program for internet marketers eager to learn how to make a full time living online, prompting a critical review by HonestyFirstReviews.com's Tiffany Hendricks.

"Work From No Home is the brainchild of Peng Joon a well known internet marketer with a number of popular training courses to his credit," reports Hendricks. "According to Joon, he was able to generate $12,614, in 29 days, while on vacation using the method taught in this program. Needless to say, we were curious to investigate just what he is teaching and report on it for our website visitors."

In a video on Joon's website he documents his 29 day trip, checking into his online accounts every couple of days to report on his sales numbers. Joon started a new website using his "Work From No Home" method the first day of his trip and was able to generate over twelve thousand dollars from that website alone while on vacation. "Many skeptics doubt whether this sort of income can realistically be generated through websites," says Hendricks. "While only a small of those who dabble in internet marketers ever become successful, there certainly are many others, like Joon who area able to make as much as seven figures per month, consistently. That said, I think the big the to remember with these sorts of courses is that no matter how good the information, one still needs to be very dedicated and put in old fashioned 'roll up the sleeves' hard work to get these sorts of results."

Work From No Home is delivered digitally online, allowing customers instant access to all training materials. The multimedia course includes a PDF guide book, several videos and case studies that walk users through the process of setting up websites, using current methods for generating targeted traffic, and converting that web traffic into sales.

"Unlike a lot of internet marketing courses offering so-called 'push button software', Work From No Home provides a full system for setting up an online business," says Hendricks. "While there is more 'work' involved here beyond just pushing a button once this sort of passive income stream is set up it doesn't require much maintenance. I've been marketing online for years myself so I definitely understand why people want to learn these strategies. Being able to work from your laptop from anywhere in the world is pretty hard to beat."
