Aerovox Announces Appointment of Marco Castillo to International Sales Manager

Supports focus on company growth in international markets

New Bedford, MA (February 28, 2013) - Aerovox Corp. has announced that Marco Castillo was recently appointed to the position of International Sales Manager. In this position, Mr. Castillo will be responsible for all worldwide sales activity outside the U.S., Canada and Mexican border area, focusing on expanding Aerovox's international footprint in targeted growth markets.

Prior to joining Aerovox, he held global management positions at Hockman-Lewis, Ltd., Honeywell International and Allied Signal, where he achieved strong revenue and market share growth at each company. Mr. Castillo is a graduate of the University of El Salvador, where he earned a B.S. degree in Electrical Engineering.

"Marco brings many years of international sales and marketing success to Aerovox," said Jim Faughnan, President & CEO. "We look forward to his contribution as we continue to develop customer relationships internationally."

Aerovox is a leading manufacturer of capacitors for industrial, medical and specialized applications, with world-class design, manufacturing and testing facilities in New Bedford, MA. Global manufacturing facilities in China and India enable quick turn-around for shipping and delivery worldwide. Aerovox capacitors are among the world's most reliable components. The company's extensive custom design and development capabilities coupled with its broad, standardized product offerings allow it to provide intelligent capacitor solutions that meet or exceed customers' application requirements.
