Summary: HonestyFirstReviews.com the premier internet marketing review site releases a review of Alex Shelton's "Instant Online Profits" a software suite and video training course promising to help users build a profitable "lifestyle business".

Alex Shelton's Instant Online Profits system has quickly become one of the years most talked about internet marketing programs sending waves of excitement through the online business community and drawing a critical review by HonestyFirstReviews.com's Tiffany Hendricks.

"Instant Online Profits is a particularly appealing system because it offers online business owners a new way to build new income streams that need minimal upkeep," reports Hendricks. "Ever since Tim Ferriss published The 4-Hour Workweek, the idea of a hands-free lifestyle business has been gaining in popularity. That said, many who enter the internet marketing space actually end up dedicating fifty working hours per week or more to their businesses because they are trying to do everything manually. So, when we were presented with the opportunity to review Shelton's program we were eager to see if it was indeed a viable solution for those seeking to automate there business systems."

Hendricks' Instant Online Profits review reveals that the program is available digitally online allowing users instant access to Shelton's software and training materials. The core of the program is the Profit Influx Software which allows members to create fully optimized affiliate websites without requiring any previous technical training. In addition, members gain access to the Profit X Software Suite for targeting hot keyword, selecting best selling products to promote, and securing prime domain names. Bonuses, including a quick start guide, 10K Per Month HD Video Training, and one on one coaching with Shelton are also currently included with the program.

"While this concept of 'scaling up' one's online business is pervasive in the IM community, many struggle to achieve the critical mass of high traffic web pages necessary to sustain a true lifestyle business," says Hendricks. "Shelton's software may indeed prove quite helpful for eliminating many of the mundane tasks associated with web publishing, allowing users to focus on building out a diverse portfolio of money sites."
