Bridgehampton, NY, June 26th, 2013

The Bridgehampton Antiques & Design Fair, being held on July 12th through 14th, 2013 at the Bridgehampton Community House, showcases 25 exceptional antiques dealers from the United States & Europe. This exclusive event offers an exceptional selection of antiques, including mid-century modern, Asian, vintage couture, folk art, and unusual furniture and decorative objects from antiquity to present day. This year the Bridgehampton Antiques & Design Fair has invited Get Back Inc. to represent the Vintage Industrial Furniture category. “We are very excited to be a part of this fair” says, Tim Byrne, founder of Get Back Inc. “The Bridgehampton Fair is a favorite shopping destination for so many leading decorators, design firms and celebrated personalities. The special invitation preview on Thursday night allows us to invite some of our best customers to visit and meet the exhibitors in a relaxed and intimate setting”

Exhibitors will display items on both levels of the Bridgehampton Community House. The upper level floor plan includes space for fifteen exhibits, including the highly visible stage area facing the entrance. “When we were offered one of the booths on the stage, we immediately asked if Get Back Inc. could combine booths to use the entire stage area. It is such a prominent location and the space can be set-up to resemble our showroom” explains Byrne. “It is truly a privilege to be part of this invite-only exhibition.”

About Get Back Inc.

Get Back Inc. re-purposes pieces from the American Industrial Revolution era. These pieces are functional objects of beauty; a one-of-a-kind table, chair, or light fixture imbued with Tim Byrne's deep reverence for historical American craftsmanship. Now, taking the next logical step, Get Back Inc. is designing and manufacturing new pieces with the same painstaking techniques of days gone by, under the brand name of Dept. 87.

About Tim Byrne.

Since 1976, when Tim Byrne apprenticed to a furniture maker in Dublin, Ireland, he has designed and built furniture. After honing his craft as a cabinet maker and finish carpenter, he immigrated to America in 1987. He became a citizen and opened his own vintage furniture shop, Get Back, Inc., in 2000. Since 2000, Tim Byrne and his craftsmen at Get Back, Inc. have re-purposed pieces from the American Industrial Revolution era into Vintage Industrial Furniture. Under the Dept. 87 brand, Get Back is now currently designing and manufacturing tables, shelving units, seating, retail store fixtures and lighting. All Get Back & Dept. 87 furnishings are 100% American made, using 100% American materials and workmanship. Get Back's showroom and shop is located in Oakville, CT, and Byrne also has an affiliation with the New York Design Center.
