"IWC has the staff to resolve almost any design issue from structure to finish. Although we came to IWC with a design that was 90% ready to go, it was their resolution of the other 10% that made it possible."

Not All Suppliers Are Created Equal...

When solving design problems, not all suppliers are created equal. IWC's strength is our ability to design, develop and manufacture to customer specifications. With customer direction, IWC strives to improve a product's design through value engineering, which can boost the performance of the end product and lower production costs.

IWC has the creative ingenuity to bring viable products to our customers. For example, two designs brought to one company now account for over 50% of their sales in that category!
