American Nurses Association Selects Election-America as Its Preferred Election Management Organization

Washington, D.C. – July 15, 2013 - The American Nurses Association (ANA) has named Election-America its preferred vendor for election management. ANA is a professional membership organization for registered nurses dedicated to advancing the nursing profession and improving the health of individuals and communities. Election-America is a full-service election management organization. Election-America will provide pre-election planning, election consultation services, custom voting methods, top-of-the-line security procedures and technology, and election management tools for ANA, its constituent and state nurses associations and other affiliates.

This strategic partnership was put in place because Election-America has the quintessential tools to satisfy ANA, the state nurses associations and other affiliates' different budgets and expectations for their elections. Significant discounts will be offered when any affiliated organization uses Election-America's services for paper or online elections. Election-America's secure, reliable, and configurable election services make them a perfect fit for an organization with over 50 affiliates - all with unique wants and needs.

Election-America's General Manager, Chris Backert states, "It is our great pleasure and delight to work with the American Nurses Association and their affiliated groups. Our partners and their tens of millions of members have trust in our secure and reliable voting system. I have no doubt our experience and array of custom services will be able to fulfill all of the groups' unique requirements."
