LightWork Talent Management: The Next Generation for PerformancePAM Talent Management

LightWork Talent Management (formerly PerformancePAM) is excited to announce its release as the next generation talent management product. With this rebrand comes a friendlier, more intuitive user experience and greater flexibility for an employee performance management process as unique as your company.

July 15, 2013 – Deland, FL – LightWork Talent Management, a transformation of the PerformancePAM Talent Management software, is designed to help identify strengths and areas for improvement in employee performance and set goals for employee and corporate success. Web-based with familiar Microsoft Windows navigation, LightWork integrates with all HR systems with tightest integration to Sage HRMS. This redesigned performance appraisal platform has all the capabilities of the product we know and love, brought to you with more flexibility, customization and intuitive interfaces. The easily modified appraisals and criteria templates that made PerformancePAM stand out in the market, are now even more adaptable based on valuable feedback provided by current clients.

"These latest advancements in LightWork speak to our continued commitment to provide the highest level user experience both with our product and through our interactions with customers", says Elizabeth Counts, Director of Business Development for LightWork Software. "We are excited to share LightWork's clean look and feel and strong configuration options that make it a natural choice for any company looking for a strong talent management solution."

Among the many new features available, LightWork also offers greater browser capability, enhanced group security, and visual customization. Users now have the ability to define the product to their company culture with color theming, logo replacement, and text modification. The employee details have also been enriched allowing administrators to have HR resources at their fingertips. Employee pictures can be accessed within their profiles, putting a face with a name and letting users get to know the most valuable assets of their organization.

Our turnkey implementation process makes LightWork easy to deploy and sets you up to maintain your company's employee performance appraisal system with little effort. The product is 100% web-based ensuring convenient access anywhere and anytime. With customizable templates, progress tracking capabilities, notifications, goal management, and scoring, LightWork will allow you to get started quickly and have a complete employee appraisal solution that will essentially manage itself.
