WEB SOLUTIONS COMPANY ANNOUNCES WEBSITE FOR INTERCOLLEGIATE ATHLETE RESEARCH

The Laboratory for the Study of Intercollegiate Athletics is an interdisciplinary research and training laboratory supported by the Division of Sports Management program at Texas A&M University recently gained a new website that was created by the associates at AgniTEK.

College Station, TX, July 26, 2013– AgniTEK, a nationally-recognized company for their expertise in helping organizations leverage technology to improve businesses, is pleased to announce the launch of a website for the Laboratory for the Study of Intercollegiate Athletics at <http://www.lsiاسports.com>. The new website was designed and created by AgniTEK associates and is live on the web.

The Laboratory for the Study of Intercollegiate Athletics (LSIA), established in the Fall of 2003, is an interdisciplinary research and training laboratory supported by the Division of Sports Management program in the Department of Health and Kinesiology at Texas A&M University. The Laboratory examines major concepts and issues related to the management and conduct of all levels of intercollegiate athletics, including those related to: organizational effectiveness and efficiency, social responsibility and ethics, revenue generation, leadership, organizational control and planning, reform and organizational change, fiscal management, gender equity, diversity, legal aspects and compliance, career attainment processes, and marketing. The three major goals of LSIA are: to generate new knowledge, aggregate existing sources of knowledge, and disseminate timely and appropriate knowledge concerning the practice, application, and theory of intercollegiate athletics management. To learn more about the Laboratory for the Study of Intercollegiate Athletics, visit their website today.

This web resource created for the Laboratory for the Study of Intercollegiate Athletics offers an organized way to share all that they do and the projects that they are working on. There are also numerous links and resources relating to their subject matter available to all to gain information. The website even offers LSIA merchandise and a link to order it all online. All of the features were made possible by AgniTEK and their associates and hope to benefit LSIA in the future.
