INTERNATIONAL FOOD PROTECTION TRAINING INSTITUTE (IFPTI) TO EXHIBIT AT INTERNATIONAL ASSOCIATION FOR FOOD PROTECTION'S ANNUAL MEETING

Food Safety Professionals Convene in Charlotte, NC on July 28-31

Battle Creek, Michigan – The International Association for Food Protection (IAFP) will hold its Annual Meeting at the Charlotte Convention Center from July 28-31, 2013.

The agenda includes a variety of topics that address issues across the food sector including foodborne pathogens, risk assessment, and allergens.

Joan Bowman, Vice President of External Affairs, and staff from the Global Food Protection Institute and the International Food Protection Training Institute will exhibit on the organizations' programs and training systems at Booth #725. Visitors to the booth may be entered to win a pair of Bose QuietComfort® 15 Acoustic Noise Cancelling® headphones.

About IFPTI

IFPTI is an initiative of the Global Food Protection Institute (GFPI), a 501(c)(3) nonprofit organization in Battle Creek, Mich., that is driving the adoption of food protection policies and practices for a safer global food supply. GFPI's mission is to improve public health and reduce mortality, morbidity and economic costs associated with foodborne illnesses.

The Training Institute is building and administering the training infrastructure for the nation's Integrated Food Safety System. IFPTI is dedicated to improving food safety by building training systems, providing evidence-based curriculum, and delivering training for U.S. and international public and private sector food protection professionals.
