CPSP: The Standard for Sourcing Training

CPSP recruiter training and certification programs cover everything to make a good recruiter great!

People Sourcing is the most sought after skill in today's talent acquisition landscape. Technology and social media have changed the way we communicate, so recruiters need to master these tools to identify the best potential candidates. CPSP-Certified graduates have the skills to identify untapped talent pools in any industry or niche.

The CPSP Training is based on the knowledge of Irina Shamaeva, one of the world's most well respected, professional sourcers. CPSP teaches strategic talent sourcing best practices to improve team productivity and efficiency for immediate results.

Classes are led by sourcing experts using applied techniques to ensure attendees practice and master the skills learned. We provide unparalleled support during and after certification.
