Las Vegas, NV – It's always nice to be recognized, and TripAdvisor, Condé Nast Traveler magazine and AAA have awarded the JW Marriott Las Vegas Resort & Spa with five awards this year for being environmentally friendly and conservative of their resources, as well as for outstanding customer service.

The Las Vegas luxury resort just earned a Silver Level Green Leaders Certificate from TripAdvisor, a program designed to recognize hotels engaged in environmentally friendly practices. Earning this place certifies that the Las Vegas resort went above and beyond the minimum requirements of having a towel and linen re-use program, using energy-efficient light bulbs, tracking energy usage, recycling and educating staff and hotel guests about green practices. This award now makes the property visible in the Green Hotels Section on TripAdvisor.

The Las Vegas resort also has earned the 2013 AAA Four Diamond Award for the ninth year in a row, signifying excellence in all areas of the hotel, including cleanliness of rooms, 24-hour guest support and up-to-code onsite facilities. The 2013 Certificate of Excellence award from TripAdvisor is a title only achieved by offering highly rated accommodations as well as consistently receiving outstanding traveler reviews. The honor is given to the top 10 percent of companies on TripAdvisor.

Condé Nast Traveler magazine and its readers pay tribute to the excellent service at the Las Vegas luxury resort with two awards. The magazine's readers voted the JW Marriott Las Vegas Resort & Spa one of the Top 5 Las Vegas Resorts. The Spa Aquae has been voted as a Top 100 US Resort Spa for the second year in a row. The spa focuses on hydration, rejuvenation, and the power of water to melt away stress and enable guests to experience healing and renewal. Top treatments at the spa include the Shirodhara Ritual, Hydrating Sea Water Pearl facial, couples massages, co-ed Hydrotherapy Circuit Pool, Lu'lur Ritual pedicure, and yoga classes.

When not relaxing in the spa, luxurious guest rooms offer vacationers 500 square feet of stylish comfortable space with spectacular views of the Las Vegas Strip, golf courses or mountains.

With 11 onsite dining options, the Vegas-style Rampart Casino, a golf concierge and 100,000 square feet of indoor and outdoor event space to accommodate up to 1,400 guests, the hotel is an ideal location to host Las Vegas corporate meetings and events.
