The New Rochelle Downtown Grand Market Features Caribbean Food and Fun August 31st!

New Rochelle, NY, August 31, 2013 – In celebration of Caribbean culture, the Grand Market will feature food and fun from the islands this week. The New Rochelle Downtown Grand Market is open every Saturday to hundreds of visitors and to more than two dozen vendors at 1 Library Plaza from 9am to 2pm. The festive neighborhood farmers market features local farm-fresh fruit and produce, fish, meats, cheeses, baked goods and many other specialty foods. The success of this first year farmers market has continued to attract several vendors that will be available at the August 31st market including:

A Place 2 Go Caribbean Restaurant – fantastic, slow cooked BBQ brisket, jerk pork, jerk chicken and macaroni & cheese.

R&R Farms – Specializing in Mexican produce such as pipiche, alache and two kinds of papalo and chiles.

Little Luscious Dessert Company – Fantastic fresh dessert by local food entrepreneur featured in the New York Times.

Sweet Things & Wild Thyme – Scrumptious honey, pollen and beeswax products.

...and many more! Visit
