The ABPMP International Guide to the Business Process Management Common Body of Knowledge, (ABPMP BPM CBOK[®]) Third Edition

ABPMP is proud to announce the release of the third edition of the BPM CBOK[®]

Business Process Management (BPM) methods, supporting technologies, techniques and approaches are continually evolving. While the fundamental concepts underlying BPM practice remain firm, these developments require that we continually update our body of knowledge to reflect current practice. This new third version of the ABPMP Guide to the BPM Common Body of Knowledge offers more than 400 pages of information, insights and guidelines gleaned from a broad spectrum of practitioners. Contributions in this volume come from our members, thought leaders, practice leaders at major consultancies, key industry analysts, and well known authors in the BPM field. This guide is a reference manual and each chapter represents a core topic in the BPM discipline.

Coinciding with the 10th anniversary of the association, The ABPMP International Guide to the BPM Body of Knowledge v3.0 (BPM CBOK[®]) will be released in English worldwide on September 3rd to the members of the Association of Business Process Management Professionals International (ABPMP) and sold through Amazon and the ABPMP website at www.abpmp.org.

The English and Portuguese versions of the BPM CBOK V3.0 are now available as downloads to members thru ABPMP International and the ABPMP Brazil websites (member area).

The Association of Business Process Management Professionals International is a global non-profit, vendor independent professional organization dedicated to the advancement of business process management concepts and its practices.
