

Public Relations in the Clouds

(Or should we say Cloud?)

Is the world really getting smaller, or has our reach been extended?

A Virtual World

We're no longer beholden to place. We now conduct business across great distances, transcending regional, state, and even national boundaries. How is your business adapting? Are you soaring with eagles or still shuffling on the ground?

Hank Eder PR/Marketing is a virtual PR company. We're tuned into the shifting "memes" of our virtual world. You might just say we have our heads in the Cloud. We service clients in areas as diverse as Miami, Jacksonville, Alabama, and Western North Carolina, in equally diverse fields like music retail, motivational speaking, financial analysis, food delivery services, and real estate. As a virtual company, we've trimmed our brick-and-mortar expenses down to zero,, and we pass the savings on to you.

We offer Public Relations, Press Releases, Copy Writing, Newsletters, B2B Publications, Corporate/Personnel Communications, SEO Writing, Crisis Response PR, Social Network Copywriting and Maintenance, Blog Writing, Branding, Graphics Design, and much more.

Find out how the power of Virtual PR can work for you. Call or email for a personalized quote today.
