

An Art Exhibit Presented by the Friends of
Jonathan Dickinson State Park

World-traveling and award-winning local artists present their work enlightening new perspectives toward underwater life. Over 70 pieces of sculpture, paintings, and photographs expose beautiful ecological environments and capture rare underwater encounters. Artwork will be for sale - 20% of the proceeds benefit the Friends of the park.

The reception is free and will include wine and cheese, an awards presentation, and a special guest speaker. Dr. Michael Heithaus, with FIU, will present his work on the behaviors and interactions of bull sharks in the Loxahatchee and other estuarine systems.

Friday
October 4
6:30 p.m.

Reception & Special Presentation
RSVP required
561-745-5551

RAFFLE!!

Valuable prizes will be available for raffle!

An Art Exhibit Presented by the Friends of
Jonathan Dickinson State Park

World-traveling and award-winning local artists present their work enlightening new perspectives toward underwater life. Over 70 pieces of sculpture, paintings, and photographs expose beautiful ecological environments and capture rare underwater encounters. Artwork will be for sale - 20% of the proceeds benefit the Friends of the park.

The reception is free and will include wine and cheese, an awards presentation, and a special guest speaker. Dr. Michael Heithaus, with FIU, will present his work on the behaviors and interactions of bull sharks in the Loxahatchee and other estuarine systems.

Friday
October 4
6:30 p.m.

Reception & Special Presentation
RSVP required
561-745-5551

RAFFLE!!

Valuable prizes will be available for raffle!