UTECH's remanufactured and compatible HP laser cartridges comply with "Non-HP Supply Installed" chip requirement

November, 12, 2013 - Union Technology International (Macao Commercial Offshore) Company Limited ("UTECH"), the master global distributor of Print - Rite imaging products, is pleased to advise that the existing chips in both our remanufactured cartridges and our new SmartTact compatible toner cartridges intended for use in the Hewlett-Packard printers identified in HP's "Technical white paper - Aftermarket Chips for HP Laserjet Printers" have all been successfully modified to display "Non-HP Supply installed," and fully comply with the latest requirements of HP as announced in the white paper.

Our modifications were done prior to the public announcement of HP's white paper, and our clients should feel confident that the continued use of our products in these printers is in conformance with the policies stated by HP.

As an industry leader in the development of compatible imaging supplies products, UTECH is committed to respecting intellectual property rights, including patents, copyrights, trademarks and technical know-how, and to selling IP safe products.

Print-Rite brand products have themselves been awarded numerous patents for their innovations, with patents and pending applications totalling over 2,100 world-wide through September 2013.
