

FAP Turbo 2.0: Review Examining Steve Carletti's newly updated Forex Robot Released

SUMMARY: WealthSpringMarketing.com releases a review of FAP Turbo 2.0, a newly updated version of the popular FAP Turbo automated Forex trading software to discuss FAP Turbo 2.0's new features and advancements.

Steve Carletti's FAP Turbo Forex Trading Robot has been an extremely popular program among Forex traders having sold over 80,000 units since its initial release. Though the original version of FAP Turbo has been updated constantly, and remains popular to this day, the news of FAP Turbo 2.0's release has created a buzz of excitement throughout the Forex trading community. The media attention surrounding the program's release as caught the attention of WealthSpringMarketing.com's Tiffany Hendricks, prompting an investigative review.

"FAP Turbo is legendary amongst Forex traders, and the program's creators are held in high regard for their commitment to consistently updating, and improving upon their software," says Hendricks. "Obviously, traders are expecting big things from FAP Turbo 2.0, and they have turned out in droves Tuesday to snatch up copies of the new system."

FAP Turbo is an automated trading system or "EA" which can be set to run on autopilot, 24 hours a day Monday through Friday. The newly designed software was designed to trade successfully in every market condition, and now includes the ability to trade not only 8 currency pairs at high frequency but also the world's most successful cryptocurrency Bitcoin.

"Our FAP Turbo 2 review shows that this new version of FAP Turbo taps into weaknesses in multiple markets," says Hendricks. "We are excited to get the word out to our readers about this software which we feel is undoubtedly the most accurate Forex robot in today's market."
