

Ejiro Esi, DDS

I am passionate about creating beautiful, healthy smiles.

I love educating my patients about the benefits of orthodontics, and specifically how orthodontics can improve their smile and their overall health. I am excited when a patient who is apprehensive about treatment gives me a chance to show them how orthodontics can change their lives. I love it when they begin to see the changes that are occurring during the course of treatment and begin to smile at how amazing orthodontics is.

The true reward is when a patient who never wanted to smile tells me how they can't stop smiling now that they have beautiful straight teeth. There is nothing more fulfilling than being able to transform a patient's life, improving their self-confidence and self-esteem, by simply changing their smile.

Education and Continuing Education

- Undergraduate Degree – George Mason University, Fairfax, VA
- Doctorate of Dental Surgery – Columbia University, New York, NY
- Orthodontic Residency – Howard University, Washington, DC

I participate in continuing education so I can stay abreast of the latest techniques and the changes that are occurring in the field of orthodontics. I want to be able to provide my patients with the most up-to-date techniques to optimize treatment time and treatment results. In essence, I want to provide my patients with the highest level of care.

Professional Affiliations

- American Association of Orthodontists
- American Board of Orthodontics, College of Diplomates
- Maryland State Society of Orthodontists
- Middle Atlantic Society of Orthodontists

This time last year, I requested Dr. Esi to close my gap at age 40. I'm proud to say a year later my gaps are closed... Thanks Dr. Ejiro Esi for providing me a new beginning at 40 which has been a booster to my self esteem.
