ARE YOU AN ATTENDEE OR A COURSE SPONSOR?

CHOOSE SMARTER

There's always going to be good and bad courses. We believe that the good far-and-away outnumber the bad, but it's really up to you and your colleagues to make the final decision.

BE THE VERY BEST

Course attendees listen to every word. Hell, (oops!) they even take notes to study when they get back to the office. It's important that everything you say is true and valid as if it's going to be carved in stone.

At RateCE.com, the ultimate power is in your hands. It's up to you to decide whether a course is worth the time and money to attend. But with this awesome power, comes awesome responsibility. You owe it to your colleagues to let them know.

Be a rock star. Post your courses online at RateCE.com and open them for rating and review by those who attend. We believe that those sponsors who have the courage to allow public comments on their courses are committed to excellence.

And when you do share your comments, we'll reward your efforts with marketing materials that you can use to let your patients know of your commitment to excellent dental continuing education.
