Advanced Audio + Applications Marketplace

The Advanced Audio + Application Exchange (A3E) has uniquely targeted and is creating a business-to-business Exchange, and environment, for the 3 critical components and communities that make up the creative aspect of the music and professional audio industry:

- 1 Music + Audio Software Developers
- 2 Musicians + Audio Professionals
- 3 Music, Audio + Technology Manufacturers

A3E has a very simple mission: to create an Exchange of ideas, information and intelligence between audio developers, professional musicians, audio personnel, the creators and innovators of music technologies, instruments and software applications (both established and emerging), along with the professional organizations, associations, publications and social networks that support that same mission.
