

CAMPAIGN

OPENING UP TO INDIE AUTHORS

Debbie Young & Dan Holloway

Series editor: Orna Ross

An Alliance of Independent Authors (ALLi) guide.

For authors and everyone who brings books from writers to readers.

The aim of the guide is to show, through education and example, how authors & industry players e.g. bookstores, reviewers, festival and event organisers, libraries, award bodies, book fairs and conferences can successfully work together.

- to raise awareness of the high quality books offered by the best self-publishing authors — and encourage their inclusion
- to equip self-published authors with the information and attitude they need to successfully collaborate.
- to tackle the challenges of incorporating self-publishers into the literary and publishing ecosystem.

ALLi's "Open Up To Indie Authors" campaign aims to remove any discrimination against a book, and its author, on the basis of how it has been published.

If you support its aims, please sign our petition on Change.org:

<http://www.change.org/en-GB/petitions/open-up-to-indie-authors/>