About World T.E.A.M. Sports

World T.E.A.M Sports. (The Exceptional Athlete Matters) is a 501(c)(3) not-for-profit organization chartered in North Carolina and headquartered in Holbrook, NY. For more than 20 years, World Team Sports has organized all kinds of athletic events for disabled and able-bodied citizens that challenge them to accomplish goals they never thought possible – mountain climbing, white water rafting, biking, and more. They change lives through sports.

World T.E.A.M. Sports Beginnings

James Benson, a Boston businessman originally from suburban Chicago, founded World T.E.A.M. Sports in 1993. As a high school student in 1960, Benson became aware of a fellow student who was talented not only in the classroom but also consistently showed signs of great athletic ability. However, he was disabled and was consistently excluded from activities by his peers. Benson saw something different in him and recognized him as a capable person, notwithstanding his disability. It was through this formative experience that Benson made a promise that if ever given the opportunity, he would create an organization committed to providing more opportunities to individuals living with a disability, and he would use the power of sports to make them possible.
