EarthBend Announces Completion of its New Corporate Headquarters in Sioux Falls, SD

EarthBend CEO Announces the Completion of New Corporate Headquarters located in Sioux Falls, SD.

Sioux Falls, SD - 5/12/2014: EarthBend CEO Rob Beyer announced today that they have completed construction of their new Corporate Headquarters in Sioux Falls, SD. EarthBend has completed the move from their 49th and Western location to a newly constructed 14,000 square foot building located on N 54th Street near Reliamax and Sanford Research. EarthBend is pleased to host The Sioux Falls Chamber of Commerce May Membership Mixer on 5/13/2014 at their new headquarters. (More information and to register click here)

"I am extremely pleased to see the completion of our new headquarters. The new facility will enable us to continue to extend our services and support activities by leveraging our new classroom, labs, data center, staging area, and numerous conference rooms. We went from one meeting room to naming multiple conference rooms!" Said CEO Rob Beyer

EarthBend selected the architectural firm of Vandewalle & Associates for the design and general contractor Beck & Hofer Construction to complete the 4 month project which started in January. The new building, located at 2300 E 54th St. N Suite#3, will house roughly 45 employees. This premier facility boasts a warm inviting entrance, large meeting and collaboration area, fitness room, expanded warehouse, large training room and data center. It will also serve as a key technology differentiator for their Midwest customers providing enhanced local IT (Information Technology) system design, testing, staging, monitoring, service and support. The commitment and investment to its customers, employees and community are apparent in every detail of this state of the art facility.
