

HopeWalk Walkathon 5K 2014

The Hands for Hope HopeWalk is a family tradition, designed to get kids moving and to remind them that sports are fun, and there's more to the world of food than junk food. In its 14th year, the event promises to be better than ever. The day starts with a 5K walk through the heart of the North Hollywood Arts District. When the kids get an activity book where we get them to try various forms of exercise, from football to yoga to a sack race.

Starting at 11 AM at A Taste of Healthy NoHo, the roughly two hundred participants try the healthy foods that are available at your store or restaurant every day. This event is hosted by Hands for Hope, a FREE non-profit afterschool program designed to help kids get a better start in life.

Here are the ways you can become a sponsor of the Hopewalk:

- Please pick a donation level from the list below and make a difference,
- Please consider donating prizes such as toys,
- Or be at the event to give samples of the foods you offer that kids will enjoy regularly, but just haven't tried yet.
