

GOERPCLLOUD RELEASES NEW FEATURES IN MICROSOFT DYNAMICS AX R3 TRIALS

Microsoft Dynamics AX™ 2012 R3 is now available for cloud trials on goERPcloud.

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (May 29, 2014) New feature enhancements in Microsoft Dynamics AX are now available to test drive at goERPcloud . Earlier this month, Microsoft released Dynamics AX 2012 R3, the latest version of Microsoft’s most powerful ERP solution, and included several new enhancements which are now available in the goERPcloud trial environment.

“Today, I was introduced to goERPcloud, and I have to admit this is a super cool offering,” said Murray Fife, Microsoft Dynamics AX Most Valuable Professional (MVP), in a recent article. “goERPcloud offers a free trial service for test driving Dynamics AX R3 without having to provide a single digit of your credit card number. goERPcloud is the CreditKarma for Dynamics AX hosting,” Fife added. Fife is an 18-year veteran of the software industry and author of several popular Dynamics AX guide books. Microsoft’s MVP award program recognizes these solution experts from the Microsoft Dynamics technical community for their participation and willingness to help others.

The new Dynamics AX release includes enhancements to some of the most popular modules inside AX including warehouse management, transportation management, sales and marketing, project management and accounting and retail management. Other features that were added or enhanced include demand forecast and forecast accuracy cubes, trade allowance management cube and available Microsoft Azure cloud deployment.

“Software trials are becoming increasingly important in the process of selecting new enterprise resource planning software,” said Jeff DeMaria, goERPcloud Product Manager. “We are continually enhancing the 30 day trial experience and working closely with our AX partners to deliver all the increased functionality in Dynamics AX 2012 R3 to new trial users.”

In addition to the out-of-box functionality, goERPcloud provides Dynamics AX trials with integration to Dynamics CRM. Microsoft Dynamics AX trials with integration to 3rd party applications for manufacturing, retail, supply chain and advanced analytics will soon be available through goERPcloud.
