Medical Equipment Solutions

Proven Quality

At Creation, we understand that there are distinct and unique considerations required in the design and manufacture of Medical Devices. Our ISO 13485 certification and FDA registrations demonstrate our ongoing commitment to exceptional quality. Combined with our World-Class manufacturing and test capabilities, our robust processes ensure product traceability and reliability for our customers.

Experience

We have considerable experience in building non-invasive, Class I and II medical instrumentation, particularly medical diagnostics and imaging. From fine, intricate electronics required for cameras used in brain surgery to 15-pound power boards for x-ray instrumentation, Creation has the expertise required to provide you with a complete manufacturing solution through the life of your product.
