SPCA Invites You to Take A Peek at Its New Facility!
Bring a friend to the adoption center's pre-opening tour day.

Titusville, Florida (July 11, 2014) — The SPCA of Brevard Adoption Center in Titusville invites the public to "take a peek" at its new adoption center on Saturday, August 2, 2014 from 10 am - 1 pm before it officially opens.

"This is an opportunity for the public to get a look at part of what we do for homeless animals in Brevard by having the chance to preview our new adoption center before we officially open the doors," says Teri Scott, PR Director for the SPCA of Brevard. "We are very excited at the opportunity this new, larger location affords us to expand our ability to care for even more pets in need."

In addition to this new facility, the SPCA has two satellite cat adoption centers in the Melbourne Square and Merritt Square malls. More than 2000 animals will find homes this year because of these expansions and other out-of-the-box initiatives, like the county-wide Mega Adoption Events, headed by the SPCA.

The new adoption center is located at 6035 Sisson Road in Titusville. For more information, contact Teri Scott at 321-267-8221 ext 246 or Susan Naylor, Media Specialist at 321-501-7696.
